

Therapeutic Hand Rehabilitation Device

Need: Patients with hand paralysis face expensive solutions to treat this condition

- Robotic exoskeleton that allows the user to regain use of hand through the ability to flex fingers with little demand on user
- Offer an inexpensive alternative to existing solutions such as hand therapy and nerve transfer surgery

